Dear Mr Davis,

FINAL REMINDER - your data protection registration has expired - make sure you are not committing a criminal offence.

Your annual registration as a data controller under the Data Protection Act expired on 7 July 2016. If you are still processing personal information and do not qualify for an exemption, you should renew your registration immediately. Failure to do so is a criminal offence.

Registration renewal either costs £35 or £500 (VAT: nil) depending on the size of the organisation. You paid £35 last time. So, unless things have changed significantly, the fee is likely to be the same.

For more information about registration fees and to check if £35 is still the right fee for you please visit our website at ico.org.uk/cost

How to renew your registration

Choose your payment method below and follow the instructions. Once you've paid your renewal fee we'll send you confirmation and you'll be registered for another year. You can pay in any of these ways:

Direct debit - this is the best way to make sure you always renew on time. Just complete the enclosed instruction and send it with a copy of this letter to our Registration Team. We'll do the rest.

Please do not email the instruction to us because we are currently unable to process mandates electronically.

Online - you can renew securely online by debit or credit card. Just visit our website at ico.org.uk/pay.

Cheque - make your cheque payable to the Information Commissioner. Put your registration reference on the back - it's at the top of this letter. Please send it to our Registration Team with a copy of this letter.

Your contact information

We contact our customers by email wherever possible and hold the following email address as your contact information: info@workplacepensiontrustees.com.

We used this address when we first tried to remind you that your registration was due to expire.

If you renew, we will email our confirmation to you, so please check that the email address is up to date. If it needs changing, please tell us by emailing registration@ico.org.uk or by calling our helpline.

How to remove your registration

If you think you no longer need to be registered as a data controller, please call our helpline on 0303 123 1113 or email us at registration@ico.org.uk and explain why.

When you contact us you will need your registration reference and your security number, which we sent to you when you first registered.

Yours sincerely,

Paul Arnold
