Hi Georgina

Further to your email below, I am process of closing the SSAS bank account now and you should received the funds in your new account in the next few days.

I understand my colleagues have not be able to fully associate Pension Practitioner.com with The Pensions Regulator as they need a little bit more information to submit. Please can you confirm the full name for 'Brad D' and his telephone number and address.

With regards to the re-registration of the loans, the loans themselves are not registered anywhere so no need to re-register. I was of the understanding that the charge that has been placed at Companies House for the loan to Party at Peets Limited would need to be re-registered as it was registered under the names of the individual Trustees at that time. However our Technical Team have confirmed that Rowanmoor will not insist that the charge is re-registered but that the Members should seek legal advice regarding on whether they should re-register or not. If Party at Peets was to be placed into administration, the Administrators may query who Rowanmoor are. Similarly, if the loan was to default and the charge need to be enforced, will it cause problems for the SSAS if Rowanmoor are named as a person entitled? The members would need to refer to a solicitor for guidance.
