A guide to your statement

This statement provides a valuation of your account at the start and end of the statement period. For tax purposes you should retain this document for seven years.

Valuations: Please note that valuations are provided for information purposes only. The valuations enable you to see changes in the value of your investment and do not include a measure of performance. The valuation at the period end date is calculated using bid price(s) for unit trusts or NAV price(s) for OEICs. The bid/NAV price is the price at which you can sell your units/shares back to us. The amount you receive if you decide to sell your units/shares will depend on the bid/NAV price(s) at the time of disposal.

The value of your units/shares is related directly to the value of the investments held by the relevant fund. We work out buying and selling prices at 12 noon each working day. This is known as the valuation point.

Transaction report: This provides details of the transactions that have occurred during the statement period. A report will only be provided if any activity has taken place. The type and date of each transaction is shown, together with the relevant price and quantity.
